Aftercare Instructions

- After 24 hrs, use clean fingers or gently wet cotton swab.
- Apply a thin layer of the provided ointment to the procedure area using clean fingers or a cotton swab.
- Apply the ointment at least 2 times per day or whenever the area feels dry for 7 days.
- Avoid any eyebrow product such a brow pen or powder for the first 10 days.
- Avoid workout or sweating for 7 days.

YOU are the most important factor in the healing process!

- The color will be several shades darker during the days following the procedure and it may take several weeks before the final color is achieved. DO NOT PANIC!!!
- Do not apply make up near the procedure area.
- Scabbing may occur 2-3 days after the procedure. Do not pick at it as this will pull the pigment out.
- Sunlight will fade your Microblading, protect new microblading with sunglasses, hat, or visors.
- Avoid tanning, pools, hot tub's, saunas, lakes and oceans. No submerging area in water for at least two weeks post-procedure.
- Put clean sheets and pillowcases on your bed. Avoid sleeping on your stomach until the color is healed in.

Long Term Care Instructions

- Protect your environment from the sun by wearing hats, visors, and sunglasses.
- Keep in mind that Chemical peels, exfoliant, products used for acne, and anti-aging products (Retin A, Glycolic/ Lactic Acids, AHA, etc) can adversely affect your microblading results. Unless You are a label reader, a product containing an unwanted substance may end up in your cabinet so it's important keep in mind.

Long Term Care Instructions (Continued)

- Avoiding the area of your microblading is the only assured way to protect it from products.
- Laser treatment done near your Microblading can drastically lighten the color.
- Many factors such as lifestyle, skin type/tone products used, medication and sun exposure will affect the time between touch-ups.
- The average person will need a touch up every 12-18 months. This is because natural, finger hand-strokes are used which will not penetrate into the dermis as deep as it might be with a tattooing machine.
